Assistance Bd. Hasn't Met In 7 Months; Lack Quorum; Awaiting Four Appointments

The Adams County Public Assistance board has not had a formal meeting in nearly seven months.

Even when all of its members are on hand, there are not enough to do business.

They are given reports by the executive director of public assistance for the county, are kept advised of operation of the PA office on Chambersburg St. and occasionally they make recommendations.

But they haven't been able to transact any formal business since the first of the year. They are not able to elect a new presiding officer since their last chairman, Evan M. Appler, Littlestown, retired from the board last December 31.

LACK QUORUM

The reason for the board's inability to act is that it has only three members and it takes four to make a quorum and do bus-

The way board positions are filled goes something like this: The county chairman of the party in power at Harrisburg submits names of countians to Harrisburg for appointment. The appointments are made by the governor for three-year terms.

Although retirements and resignation were certain to cut the board membership to a threeman level at the end of 1963, no appointments were forthcoming. Since January 1 of this year only Mrs. Joseph Riley, the vice chairman; Allen S. Stauffer and Clyde

Presidents Had Many Summer White Houses

AP Newsfeatures Writer The President is never on vacation, but there's nothing in his contract that says he has to stay in Washington.

Right from the start, Presidents have been getting away, if not for a "vacation," at least for a change. George Washington considered Mount Vernon his summer home and spent the hot months there. Whenever they could, the Adamses, John and John Quincy, went back to their homes at Quincy, Mass. When Monticello had so many guests Thomas Jefferson could find no solitude he retired to a nearby house built especially for him. That was called Poplar Forest at Bedford, Va. CAL LIKED FISHING

Calvin Coolidge's administration gave rise to countless stories, and also gave birth to the phrase "summer White House." It was coined during his famous fishing vacations at Game Lodge, in the Black Hills of South Dakota. There have been many other summer White Houses, before and since.

James Buchanan went to Wheatland, a farm he owned near Lancaster, Pa., now the site of a museum. Martin Van Buren repaired to his estate, Lindenwald, at Kinderhook, N.Y., and James Monroe spent his summers at Ash Lawn, only a few miles from Monticello, Jefferson's home.

Woodrow Wilson had summer offices at Shadow Lawn, an estate at Sea Girt, N.J. Long Branch, N.J., not far from Sea Girt, was popular with no less than five presidents, Ulysses S. Grant, William McKinley, Rutherford B. Hayes, Chester A. Arthur and James A. Garfield.

USED OYSTER BAY Sagamore Hill, Theodore Roosevelt's home at Oyster Bay, N.Y., was the summer White House for seven years and is now a national shrine. John F. Hyannis Port, Mass., William Howard Taft favored Beverly,

Reading May Discontinue Red Sox Call Up PassengerServiceSept.29

Reading Railroad has set Sept. 29 as the deadline for a decision on closing down all its passenger service.

H. Merle Mulloy, Reading vice president and general counsel, said Tuesday the fate of the carrier's passenger service rests on the willingness of the state and local governments to make up the railroad's passenger

The Reading intends to eliminate its $3.3 million-a-year passenger losses either by government aid or dropping passenger service.

HAD EARLY TALKS

Mulloy said preliminary talks already have been held at the state and local level on a new statewide program to help the Reading and other companies in financial difficulties.

-He said that without firm assurances that such a program will be adopted, Reading will file with the Public Utility Commission to drop passenger serv-

This action would include the Reading commuter lines already being subsidized by the Passenger Service Improvement Corp., and the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Compact.

8.3 MILLION RIDERS

Reading lines carried 8.3 million riders in the Philadelphia area last year.

Mulloy said also that the Reading would file next month to halt service outside the metropolitan area - service beyond Norristown and Lansdale in Pennsylvania and West Trenton, N.J. Since the West Trenton line goes through to New York, the Interstate commerce commission will be involved.

Mulloy said that by dropping this service outside the Philadelphia area, Reading would reduce its losses $900,000 a year. "There is no public need for such service and the Reading sees no likelihood of government aid to continue it," Mulloy said. Mulloy said the Reading expects a financial crisis a year zone pattern number.

RIGHTISTS END LONG BOYCOTT MERCHANTS

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)-A 14 month selective buying campaign against downtown Jackson merchants - during which 23 businesses closed - was over Wednesday.

The Jackson Movement, composed of civil rights groups who advocated putting an economic pinch on white merchants to win rights for Negroes, voted Tues day night after a heated debate to end the boycott.

Several opponents said there was still no promise that the merchants would agree to hire Negroes above the "broom and mop" level.

Strategists of the movement promised they would continue to press Negro demands for better jobs and courteous treatment. The Rev. R. L. T. Smith,

NINE TRAPPED MEN IN MINE NEAR RESCUE

CAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)

— Nine men trapped in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France spent their first comfortable night in three days as rescue teams drilled through to their position
300 feet below the surface of Mt.
Revel.

Food and wine were lowered to the entombed miners Wednesday along with first aid supplies for those who were slightly injured by the cave-in Monday. Playing cards went down to help them pass the time.

"We are all fine, but we are going to sleep now," fireman Andre Martinet told his daughter Janine shortly after midnight through a microphone lowered through the supply tube.

Above ground it was the third night without sleep for many of the workers who hope to have the men out by the end of the week.

This morning a three-inch oil drill broke through into the mine 300 feet below and the rescuers made preparations to enlarge it into an escape hatch.

Champagnole Mayor Andre Socie said the guide drill had gone through hard, solid rock. He said this would slow up the work but meant the evacuation could be carried out with greater safety.

OFF - DUTY COP KILLED IN BAR

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An off-duty police lieutenant was shot and killed today as he tried to break up a quarrel in a midtown tavern, homicide detectives reported.

Police arrested Mrs. Yolanda O'Donnell, 32, in connection with the fatal shooting of Lt. Daniel McCann, 37.

McCann was shot in the chest and died after an emergency operation was performed at Pennsylvania Hospital.

Homicide detectives said Mc-Cann was entering the taproom when the owner and bartender were trying to put Mrs. O'Donnell out for being unruly. They asked McCann's help, detectives

When he told her he was a policeman, she became abusive, pulled out a revolver and fired one shot, they said.

McCann was struck in the chest. The bullet went through him and grazed James Wadeking, 30, a sailor. He was treated at Jefferson Hospital and re-

Tobacco Auction Benefits Barry

VIDALIA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's campaign coffers benefited to the tune of $182.50 when the Georgia-Florida flue-cured tobacco market opened.

Farmer Frank Moore, 35, sold 146 pounds of tobacco in Goldwater's name Wednesday and said the money would go to the senator's presidential campaign.

A tobacco company buyer paid $1.25 a pound for the to-bacco — about twice the going rate.

Boy, 10, OK After Tumble Over Cliff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert Lee, 10, had put in a hard day sliding down a sandy hill above Ocean Beach.

Then he slid too far, tumbled down a 200-foot rocky cliff, and fetched up unconscious on the beach.

When he regained consciousness he was in a helicopter which took him to an ambulance, which took him to a hospital

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—"I used to be ashamed to walk to the clubhouse," Ken Venturi said. "I'd duck my head and sneak to my locker.

"I was even afraid to shoot a good round, because I knew I would come up with a bad round. I had no confidence. I ached inside. Six months ago I wanted to ditch it all.

"Then I won the Open. It changed my whole life. I can hold my head up again. I know I can play the game. Now I can't wait to get to the clubhouse and out on the course."

BEATEN BY PALMER

Venturi died a thousand deaths before he finally slew the ghosts of his past failures and disappointments in the National Open over the steamy Congressional course at Washington, D.C.

Ten years ago he was universally hailed as the brightest prospect in golf, heir apparent to the throne soon to be vacated by an aging Ben Hogan.

In 1960, now a pro, Venturi seemed to have the Masters won when Arnold Palmer surged in with birdies on the final two holes to win by a stroke.

WON 10 TOURNAMENTS

In his first four years after turning pro in 1956 he won 10 tournaments. In 1960 he collected $41,230 in official earnings. However, he never crashed through to challenge Palmer for the No. 1 position in golf.

In February 1962, Venturi was playing a pro-am tournament in Palm Springs, Calif., when he leaned over to pluck a ball from the cup. So met hing snapped in his spine. He tried all sorts of remedies. Nothing worked. His golf swing was restricted. His game suffered.

He won only $6,951 in 1962, not even hamburger money. In 1963 it was worse. He collected only $3,848. He was ready to quit earlier this year when he got a letter from Father Francis Murray, a priest from Burlingame, near Ken's home. In essence, the priest advised: "Keep calm. Don't get too downcast."

too downcast." FATHER OF TWO

These words were floating through Venturi's mind when he strode over the long and hazardous Congressional course on the final day of the Open—nearly out from heat exhaustion. He held on for final rounds of 66-70 for 278, the second lowest score ever posted in the American Open.

Venturi, now 33, was born May 15, 1931, in San Francisco, son of ship chandler. He was runner-up in the National Junior at 17, won the San Francisco city title at 18 and twice captured the California amateur ti-
